I Reference management software (RMS)

Cosa sono

Software che permettono di creare e gestire in modo automatico una bibliografia generando descrizioni bibliografiche:

- uniformi
- nello stile citazionale desiderato
- ordinate

Quali sono i RMS

c'e' ne sono diversi, alcuni gratuiti altri a pagamento

EndNote accessibile tramite l'abbonamento a WoS, solo web

Zotero gratuito, curato da Roy Rosenzweig Center for History and New Media

Mendeley gratuito, acquisito dall'editore Elsevier

Molti altri... https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Comparison_of_reference_management_software

Cosa è uno «stile citazionale»

In una bibliografia, affinché il documento citato possa essere identificato è necessario che siano presenti i principali dati (autore, titolo, data).

Lo stile citazionale definisce il modo uniforme in cui questi elementi sono presentati (formato nella nota nel testo, ordine degli elementi, punteggiatura convenzionale)

The Gut Microbiota Mediates the Anti-Seizure Effects of the Ketogenic Diet

SUMMARY

The ketogenic diet (KD) is used to treat refractory epilepsy, but the mechanisms underlying its neuroprotective effects remain unclear. Here, we show that the gut microbiota is altered by the KD and required for protection against acute electrically induced seizures and spontaneous tonic-clonic seizures in two mouse models. Mice treated with antibiotics or reared germ free are resistant to KD-mediated seizure protection. Enrichment of, and gnotobiotic co-colonization with, KD-associated Akkermansia and Parabacteroides restores seizure protection. Moreover, transplantation of the KD gut microbiota and treatment with Akkermansia and Parabacteroides each confer seizure protection to mice fed a control diet. Alterations in colonic luminal, serum, and hippocampal metabolomic profiles correlate with seizure protection, including reductions in systemic gammamitochondrial anaerobiosis in mediating the neurological effects of the KD (Rogawski et al., 2016), but exactly how the KD confers benefit to the brain in terms of activity and behavior remains unclear.

The gut microbiota is a key intermediary between diet and host physiology; the species composition and function of the gut microbiota is critically shaped by diet, and nutrients made available to the host depend on microbial metabolism (Sonnenburg and Bäckhed, 2016). Diet-induced changes in the gut microbiota are reproducible and persistent (David et al., 2014), and as such, have lasting impacts on the host. Several diet-induced host pathologies are mediated by changes in the gut microbiota in mouse models, including symptoms of atherosclerosis in response to the carnitine-rich diet, undernutrition in response to the Malawian diet, and abnormal social behavior in response to maternal high-fat diet (Buffington et al., 2016; Koeth et al., 2013; Smith et al., 2013).

The gut microbiota modulates several metabolic and neurological pathways in the host that could be relevant to KD-mediated seizure protection. The KD alters the composition

On the far left, a sidebar titled "Hide panel" contains a "Quick Search" box and a "My References" section listing "All My References (2)", "[Unfiled] (2)", "Quick List (0)", "Trash (0)", and "My Groups". The main content area is titled "All My References" and displays two search results. Each result includes the author (Goligher, E. C. or Lawler, P. R.), year (2021), title (Therapeutic Anticoagulation with Heparin in Critically Ill Patients with Covid-19 and Therapeutic Anticoagulation with Heparin in Noncritically Ill Patients with Covid-19), and a "New England Journal of Medicine" link. Below each title, it says "Added to Library: 08 Feb 2023 Last Updated: 08 Feb 2023" and "View in Web of Science → Source Record, Related Records, Times Cited: 737" and "View in Web of Science → Source Record, Related Records, Times Cited: 322". At the bottom of each result, there are icons for "Context Sensitive Links" and "Full Text". The top right of the main area has buttons for "Show 100 per page", "Page 1 of 1", "Go", and "Sort by: First A".

Below the logo, the main menu includes 'My References' (underlined in blue), 'Collect', 'Organize' (highlighted with a red box), 'Format', 'Match', 'Options', and 'Downloads'. Underneath this, there are links for 'Manage My Groups', 'Others' Groups', 'Find Duplicates' (highlighted with a red box), and 'Manage Attachments'. On the left side, there is a sidebar titled 'Quick Search' with a search input field and dropdown for 'in All My References'. Below it, 'My References' section lists 'All My References (284)' with sub-options for '[Unfiled] (284)', 'Quick List (0)', 'Trash (0)', and 'My Groups'. The main content area is titled 'All My References' and shows a table of results. The table has columns for 'Author', 'Year', and 'Title'. The first result is 'Erratum: Surviving Covid-19 with Heparin? (The New England journal (845-846))' by 'The New England journal of medicine' from 2021. The second result is 'Should we consider heparin prophylaxis in COVID-19 patients? a systematic analysis' by 'Abdel-Maboud, M.' from 2021. Both results show 'Added to Library: 12 Feb 2023' and 'Last Updated: 12 Feb 2023'. There are also 'Online Link' and 'Go to URL' buttons, as well as 'Context Sensitive Links' and 'Full Text' buttons.

Zotero nel mio paper word : scelgo lo stile citazionale

The main content area displays a title "Titolo mia" and some placeholder text in Italian. Below the title is a section labeled "REFERENCES".

A "Zotero - Preferenze del documento" dialog box is open. It has a green header bar with the title. The "Stile citazione:" dropdown is set to "American Medical Association 11th edition", which is also circled in red. Other citation styles listed include American Chemical Society, American Political Science Association, American Psychological Association (APA) 7th edition, American Sociological Association (ASA) 6th edition, Chicago Manual of Style 17th edition (author-date), Chicago Manual of Style 17th edition (full note), and Chicago Manual of Style 17th edition (note). A blue link "Gestisci gli stili..." is visible.

The dialog box also includes settings for "Lingua:" (set to English (US)), "Salva le citazioni come...", and two radio button options: "Campi (raccomandato)" (selected) and "Segnalibri".

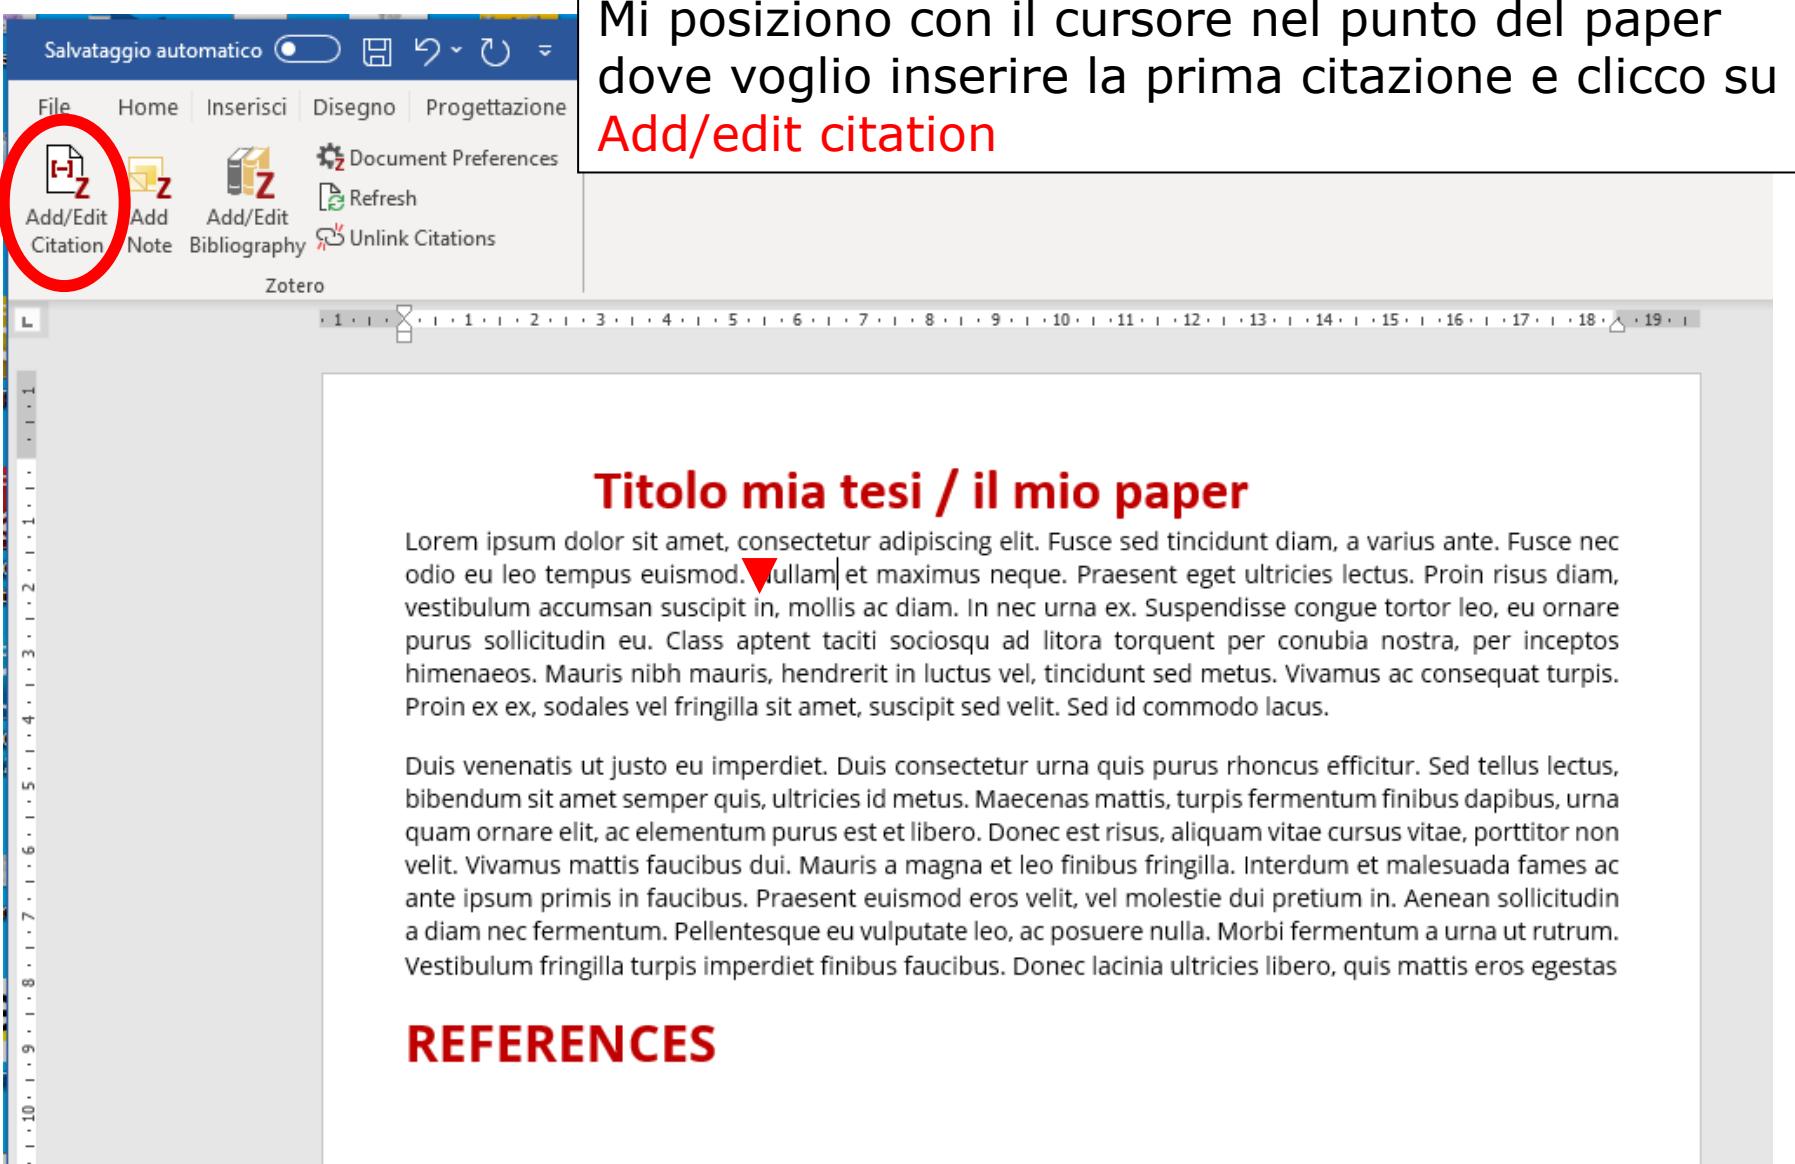

At the bottom of the dialog box are several checkboxes:

- Abbrevia i titoli delle riviste secondo lo standard MEDLINE
Il campo "Abbreviazione rivista" sarà ignorato.
- Aggiorna le citazioni automaticamente
Disabilitare l'aggiornamento può velocizzare l'inserimento delle citazioni nei documenti di grandi dimensioni. Clicca su Ricarica per aggiornare le citazioni manualmente.

At the very bottom right of the dialog box is a red arrow pointing to the "OK" button.
